

School Science Competitions Guidelines

(1) Introduction

School Science Competition is organized by the National Science Foundation (NSF) as an annual programme. The children from all government recognized schools (government and international) are eligible to participate at the competitions.

The main objectives of the School Science Competition are:

- To improve scientific knowledge of students through STEAM approach
- To promote science education by creating an interest and enthusiasm among students to learn science.
- To provide an opportunity to develop science communication skills of students.
- Integrate students and teachers of different subject areas in school to compete as a team to achieve one goal.

The theme of the School Science Competition 2025 is: “Nature inspired technology for sustainable development”.

Competitions line up for SSC 2025:

(2) General guidelines of the competitions for school children

1. All competitions will be conducted under the theme “Nature inspired technology for sustainable development”.
2. Students from all government recognized schools (government and international) are eligible to participate at the competitions.
3. The schools not registered under NSF School Science Society Network (SSSN) are encouraged to register with NSF SSSN to receive more benefits. The registration can be obtained free of charge by visiting <https://www.nsf.gov.lk/index.php/science-for-all/for-schools/sss> or sending duly filled application obtained from the NSF.
4. Submissions for the competitions can be done in all three languages (i.e. Sinhala, Tamil or English). However, winners of each competition will be selected irrespective of the medium of submission.
5. All applications should be certified as students’ own creations by the relevant class teacher and send through principal of the school.
6. Both students and teachers can submit scripts for dramas, lyrics for viridu & song competitions.
7. All drama scripts sent to NSF will be evaluated by a panel of judges and manuscripts selected for final evaluations will be informed to relevant applicants to stage their drama for the final round.
8. The students participating Role play, Viridu or Song competition must send their presentation as a video clip to the NSF using one of the communication channels mentioned below.
9. The initial rounds of the evaluation of Role play, Viridu and Song will be done using the videos submitted by the students. The best 10 submissions selected in this evaluation will be called to present at the final round to be held in one central location.
10. The performance or presentation relevant to all competitions should be done by the students.
11. In poster competition, only hand drawn posters will be accepted.
